OUTLOOK

In the 1977-78 season, Chris Weller and her talented basketball team established several "firsts" for the Women's basketball program here at the University. It started with a schedule which, for the first time, included national powers U.C.L.A. and Kansas. Maryland defeated both opponents early in the season, showing the newly formed National Women's Poll that Maryland could hold its own against the powers in other geographical areas. Mid-season took the Terrapins to the University of Virginia for the first Women's Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament. Again, the Terps came out on top, capturing the tournament championship beating a tough N.C. State team 89-82.

The Terps ended the regular season against Rutgers, posting a fantastic 21-2 record, highlighted by a first time ever victory over three-time national champion Immaculata College, 113-63. Post season action saw the Terrapin squad host the first round of the EAIAW playoffs, another first. After handily defeating Pennsylvania and Rutgers, Maryland moved on to the finals of the Eastern Regionals. At West Chester, site of the second round of tournament play, Weller's squad broke the fourth place jinx by finishing second in the Eastern Region, advancing the Terrapins out of Region 1-B and on to the National Tournament in Cleveland, Mississippi.

The team boarded a plane for the first time ever to journey to Mississippi. The long trip was again fruitful, bearing victories over Tennessee and Southern Connecticut. The upset victory over #1 ranked Tennessee gave the Terrapins their 25th victory of the season—another first, beating a previous season high mark of 20 victories, which was recorded in Chris Weller's first year as coach. Sunday, March 19, 1978 the Maryland women boarded another jet, this one carrying them to Los Angeles, California where they participated for the first time in the final, four-team AIAW National Championship Tournament.

The Terrapins momentum continued in L.A., as the University squad defeated highly touted Wayland Baptist, 90-85 at UCLA's Pauley Pavillion. This set up a cross-country contest for the finals: eastern power Maryland versus western champion U.C.L.A. The National Championship game itself, marked several firsts, not only for Maryland basketball but for all of women's college basketball. Before a national TV audience on NBC's SportsWorld and a record AIAW Championship game crowd of 9,351, the hopes and dreams of a Terrapin national championship ended. Host team UCLA, edged out in front of Maryland and held on to capture the national crown.

The "firsts" of 1977-78 will always be memorable to basketball fans of the University. But an outstanding schedule for the 1978-79 season will ensure another fine year of firsts. The Terrapins will again venture west, this time to participate in the Univ. of Nevada at Las Vegas women's tournament. Late December will see the Terps head south to play in the 1st Orange Bowl Classic in Miami, Florida. And in January the University women make their first appearance in Madison Square Garden to play powerful Louisiana State University.

In addition to the difficulties posed by the new, more competitive schedule, the 78-79 team will be faced with the challenge of playing without their outstanding floor general for the past four years, Tara Heiss. Tara's absence in the upcoming year will not be negated by any one player, but the overall consistency and improvement of the new and current Terrapins should compensate for the loss of the All-American Heiss.

Leading the list of experienced players who could bring the coveted Championship Trophy into Cole Field House is Jane Zivalich, co-captain of this year's squad. Jane was one of the most consistent performers last season, combining excellent defense with sound rebounding and scoring. Jane missed the Championship game against UCLA when she injured her knee in the semi-final game against Wayland Baptist. Off-season surgery and dedicated effort in rehabilitating her knee should put Jane back into top form.

Co-captain Debbie Stewart, and Kris Kirchner, sophomore center, will again handle the rebounding chores for the Terrapins. Stewart, an aggressive power forward, has also developed a fine knack of turning offensive rebounds into squirming, driving layups. Kirchner, meanwhile, has a soft, lazy jumper that forces opposing centers away from the basket, freeing the inside. Fast establishing herself as one of the top centers in the college game, Kris was selected by Street & Smith's to their ten member pre-season All-American team. Last year as a freshman, she led the team in rebounding (10.5 per game) and was second in scoring with a 13.5 average.

Krystal Kimrey and Gail Hook supply the bench depth in the frontcourt, necessary for any successful team. Kimrey, especially, may be counted on more heavily in 1978. Krystal recently completed a tour of Europe with Athletes in Action, playing the fast paced, roughhouse style of International ball. This trip, in which they were 8-7, may not erase the southern drawl of the Albermarle, North Carolina native, but it will hopefully give the 6'5" center the basketball experience she needs.

Veterans Betsy Bailey, Lisa Schlesinger and Lisa Abood will be the returning guards in 1978. Bailey, only a freshman last year, played and started in 29 games and developed into a fine shooting guard. The Terps third leading scorer (12.7 ppg), Betsy shot 53% from the floor and 84% from the line. Schlesinger and Abood have played in the shadow of former Terrapin Tara Heiss for the past three seasons. Either one of the quick guards may emerge as an excellent playmaker to fill the big gap at the point.

Pam Reaves and Doreen Love round out the list of returning team members. Freshmen last year, both girls were sidelined with knee injuries and spent the entire season rehabilitating after summer operations. Reaves, a '77 Parade Magazine first team All-American selection, scored over 1,700 points during her three year career at Asbury Park High School in Asbury Park, New Jersey. She is an excellent offensive player and a very good rebounder for her 5'10" size. Love, a 6'1" forward, led her West Deptford High New Jersey team to the conference championship averaging 20 points and 15 rebounds. Reaves and Love will add much depth to the front line and should see considerable action when healthy.

The overwhelming success of the 77-78 season gave the Terps a boost in the post season search for new talent. Many High School players sought the attention of Coach Weller but three players stood out among the crowd. 5'10" guard-forward Myra Waters from Toledo, Ohio was one of the most sought after players in the country. Voted Ohio State Player of the Year by both the Associated Press and United Press International, Myra can play either swing position. Lynn Calander from Columbus, Ohio was spotted by Coach Weller at her first open audition in Cole Field House. The 5'6" point guard led her Walnut Ridge High School varsity to a three year 49-7 record. Look for Lynn to challenge the returning guards for the point guard position. Lydia McAliley, the third and final recruit to sign, is the 6'1" forward-center Coach Weller needed to replace departing senior Debbie Jones. An exceptionally quick, strong rebounding player, Lydia should help an already healthy front court.

In briefly answering a few questions about the 1978-79 team and schedule, Chris had this to say:

1. HAVING LOST 3 SENIORS, ESSENTIALLY 2 STARTERS, HOW OPTIMISTIC ARE YOU ABOUT THE 78-79 SEASON?

Very optimistic, if we can remain healthy. I believe that this year we have the potential of an even stronger team, primarily because of the great improvement of the returning players.

2. WHAT ABOUT THE RECRUITS? HOW MUCH AND HOW SOON WILL THEY BE EXPECTED TO CONTRIBUTE?

The freshmen will be expected to contribute a tremendous amount, like last year's, and in the same respect, from the very beginning.

3. WHAT DO YOU FEEL IS THE MOST CRUCIAL AREA ON WHICH YOU MUST CONCENTRATE THIS SEASON?

I would have to say our transition game is the most crucial area on which we must concentrate. We will have new people leading the transition with the absence of Tara Heiss, so we'll need to work on what kind of transition to use.

4. MARYLAND'S GREATEST ASSET THIS YEAR WILL BE BALANCE

5. HOW DO YOU EVALUATE THIS YEAR'S SCHEDULE?

This year's schedule is by far the most difficult schedule we've ever had . . . probably one of the hardest in the country. But, it is the kind that will prepare us for post-season play.

§AIAW National Tournament

THE NATION'S TOP BASKETBALL STAFF

CHRIS WELLER

Indicative of her coaching abilities, Chris has been the Assistant Coach at the AIAW-HANES All-American Classic its first two years and was Head Coach of the gold-medal winning 1978 East Junior Women's Team that competed in the first U.S.A. National Sports Festival in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Entering her fourth season as head coach of the women's basketball team, Chris Weller is fast establishing a reputation as one of the best. A 1966 graduate of the University, her first three year coaching record stands at 64-14. In her first season as coach she led Maryland to its first 20 victory season ever (20-4). In addition to capturing the Maryland State Championship, the Terrapins placed fourth in the EAIAW Regional Tournament. The 1976-77 season found Maryland closing out the year with a 17-6 record, again placing fourth in their region and ranked 16th nationally. The 1977-78 season was by far the most successful year ever for a Maryland basketball team. Finishing the year with a 27-4 record, the Terps won the first ACC Women's Championship and were runner-up in the AIAW National Tournament—ending the season ranked second in the nation. The coming year looks to be one of challenge, as the Terps take on 11 of last season's top twenty teams.

Coach Weller played four years of varsity basketball while attending the University. Following graduation she taught and coached basketball, gymnastics, track, tennis and initiated lacrosse in the Montgomery County School System at John F. Kennedy High School in Silver Spring, Maryland. She is a very popular speaker at coaching clinics and has attracted hundreds of girls to her annual basketball camp over the past two summers.

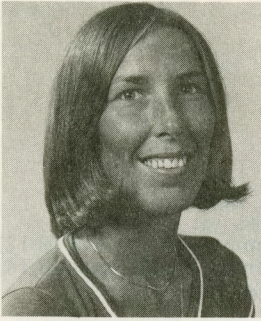

MONICA MERKEL — Assistant Basketball Coach
Academic Advisor/
General Correspondence

Monica begins her 2nd full year as assistant to Chris Weller. A graduate of Maryland, Monica received her B.S. in Physical Education in 1975. As an undergraduate, Monica was a member of the women's basketball team for four years. After graduating, Coach Merkel spent nine months at the University of Quebec at Trois-Rivieres in Quebec, Canada. There she took courses and worked for the intramural department. A guest speaker at the Kodak All-American Coaches Clinic, Monica has also been in demand to be a counselor at many of the basketball camps on the east coast. This past summer Monica was married to Jim Merkel, who is the Assistant to the Athletic Director, in charge of Academic Affairs.

MARTHA HASTINGS — Assistant Basketball Coach/
Scouting and Recruiting

Martha begins her second year as an assistant to Chris Weller. A 1978 graduate from the University of Maryland, she received her B.S. in Physical Education. She was a member of the University of Maryland basketball team from 1974 - 77, and was named captain of her team her junior and senior years. After graduating she became a member of the National AAU runner up team in 1978. Besides being a coach in the Washington Women's Summer Basketball League, she has also been a counselor at many of the summer basketball camps held on the east coast. She has been a counselor at the Cathy Rush Camp, Buffalo Gap Camp and Chris Weller's Basketball Camp.

SANDY WORTH — Women's Trainer

"Sandy" Worth begins her fifth year as head trainer for the nine women's Varsity sports at Maryland. A graduate of Maryland (1973), Sandy holds a B.S. in Physical Education.

Sandy was a Terrapin athlete, playing field hockey and basketball for four years. She became interested in the training field when she suffered an injury, but fortunately it was not a debilitating one and she was able to continue playing until graduation. Upon returning to the lineup she continued in a dual capacity as player and student trainer.

Now, certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association (N.A.T.A.), Sandy heads the women's training staff, coordinating the women student-trainers. This past summer Sandy was asked to be head trainer for the United States Field Hockey Association Developmental A and B camps. She then accompanied the selected A team to The National Sports Festival in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

COURTNEY SINES — Head Secretary, Women's Athletics

Courtney has been secretary to Chris Weller and the Maryland women's sports coaches for the past two years. Her responsibilities include the day to day management of the Women's athletic office and handling the correspondence of the Assistant A.D. and the eight coaches. Her constant smile and good nature, coupled with an extreme organizational talent has kept operations running smoothly.

Originally from New Market, Virginia, she and her husband Blaine reside now in Laurel, Maryland with one of their two sons.
